The Gamecock Game Day Guide

Description

The Gamecock Game Day Guide is a website dedicated to fans of the University of South Carolina football team. The website will include information about the team's history, current players and coaches, and a season schedule. It will also assist new and returning fans in preparing for a game at Williams-Brice Stadium by explaining key traditions and game-day details. A photo gallery will capture the excitement of Gamecock football, featuring the stadium, players, and supporters. My goal is to design a well-organized and visually appealing website that promotes the Gamecocks while making it easy for fans to discover relevant information.
